Relaunch WebID-Website: Improved user experience and more in-depth information on the complete product portfolio

Optimised presentation of the identification and signing solutions

Berlin, 25th January 2021

As of today, the new website of WebID Solutions GmbH can be reached under the domain www.webid-solutions.de. The most significant innovations: improved user guidance and a new technology section that clearly shows WebID's technological advances.

"Our product portfolio has grown considerably in just a few years and our website needs to display this variety accordingly," Frank S. Jorga, founder and CEO of WebID, explains the reason for the relaunch. While the initial focus of the company was on WebID's invention, video identification that complies with the Money Laundering Act, it now offers a wide range of solutions for digital know-your-customer processes and digital signing: from online contracts and age verification to identification for fraud prevention in e-commerce utilizing artificial intelligence and biometric security.

Jorga adds: "Just as the positive user experience plays a major role within our products, this is now also the case for the new company website, due to a modern layout and clear product presentation." Whether website visitors are specifically interested in a certain identification or signing product, or they want to inquire which solutions best digitise their processes - on the new web pages they can easily and comprehensively obtain information and directly contact WebID. Furthermore, a new section of the website provides an overview of the technologies underlying WebID solutions. Users can find information on integration types and the Global Trust Technology Platform, the worldwide ecosystem for online identification, signatures and fraud prevention.

In addition to the new site structure, a refresh of the corporate design and technical improvements for internal use took place. The website was already responsive prior to the relaunch. Further content is already being planned: for example, case studies will show the added value that WebID solutions offer in the value chains of their customers.
